But the monkey didn't seem to be scared of Lily. It just sat there in the window, looking at her with its big brown eyes. Lily slowly reached out her hand and touched the monkey's soft fur. The monkey didn't move, and Lily started to relax.

Lily and the monkey spent the rest of the day together, playing games and eating bananas. Lily named the monkey Coco, and they quickly became best friends. But as the sun started to set, Lily knew that it was time for Coco to go home.

Lily opened the window and Coco climbed out. Lily watched as Coco ran off into the trees, and she couldn't help but feel a little sad. But she knew that Coco would be happy in the wild, and that she would always have her memories of their special day together.

Oh No! There's a Monkey in My Window! is a heartwarming story about the power of friendship and the importance of letting go. It's a story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
